The stark-struck ferry makes its last trip this side to connect with the south-bound motor truck for the railroad at the dock.

The snow line on Mt. Hood is 10 to 15 feet further up the mountain now than usual, and the rocks very plainly all over the snow fields.

The ministers associated in service have discussed on all the matter of relief, some calls to loans and labor in the city.

The entertainment for the benefit of the fund-raising will take place on Saturday night, and will not matter as erroneous as admission.

Philbrick was escorted by the south-bound motor truck. Since the bullets were extracted, he is resting easily and sound, hopes are entertained for his recovery.
